

CK 1400 Human Resources Management Procedures for Public & Private Corporations

In this training program, the retention of employees was important to me, because our organization has never done an in-depth study to determine how to retain our most valuable resources. I am incredibly happy that I attended this training program because it was very enlightening as well as informative, and highlighted areas that HR practitioners may take for granted. The knowledge I picked up will be recommended to our upper management team for implementation. Also because of my attendance, it will help me to improve my effectiveness and that of the entire HR department.

The information was well presented by a deeply knowledgeable instructor who presented the material in an easily understandable way. The instructor also used everyday examples to help us to understand concepts.

Employee empowerment correlates with my role as a HR Officer, which also includes employee engagement, strengthening leadership skills and setting clear goals and expectations. These are the areas that were of most importance to me. The program provided me with valuable insights to foster productivity in the workplace. My attendance in this training program reinforced key HR strategies that will enhance employee motivation and workplace culture.

The entire training was comprehensive, and there is nothing I would change about this program. The instructor used visuals to enhance the training sessions, to support the concepts in the training manual. I am very appreciative of the instructor's delivery. Also, the instructor presented the topics by using real-life examples and sought feedback from the participants to ensure we understood. Finally, the sessions were engaging and captivating.
